

Dr Dale Gardiner is the Associate Medical Director – Deceased Organ Donation, at NHS Blood and Transplant and a Consultant in Adult Intensive Care Medicine at Nottingham University Hospitals NHS Trust.

His professional interests are medical ethics, the diagnosis of death and deceased organ donation.

Originally, he came from Australia but migrated to the UK in 2002.